Two-hour delay from railroad track-laying trouble

■ Two waiting cars end up in fender-bender on Jefferson near tracks

Sometimes, laying a quarter-mile of new railroad track takes more than ten minutes. That was the case on Monday afternoon, when the normally quick process led to a two-hour blockage at the railroad crossing on Jefferson Boulevard south of the Safeway supermarket center.

"It was a Union Pacific train laying new track," reported Lieutenant Todd Sockman of the West Sacramento Police Department, which has an office on nearby Triangle Court. "They said that normally to drop that much track takes only ten minutes. They lay it a quarter mile at a time, in one piece. It's amazing."

But this particular stretch "began to twist," he added. Meanwhile, the trail laying the track blocked the railroad crossing on Jefferson.

"There was a two-hour delay while it was blocked off," Sockman reported. "It was just one of those things."

Meanwhile, a small accident occurred on the north side of the blockage, where drivers were queued up during the delay.

"The cars were waiting and one driver in line passed out or fell asleep and he hit the gas pedal and moved forward and rear-ended somebody," Sockman said. "It was a medical condition or something with the driver. To my knowledge, nobody went to the hospital."

The blockage caused no trouble for emergency service vehicles, he added.

Holiday food & toy drive begins

■ Volunteers hope to provide ingredients for holiday meal to around 3,000 locals this Christmas

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The frenzy has begun. Neighbors, churches, community groups and businesses are working hard to get turkey and chicken dinners ready for around 3,000 West Sacramentans before Christmas. Efforts are underway to collect a few thousand toys for needy kids, as well. It's all part of the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project, which has been going on "for 35 years – that I know of," said Helena Helmold, the project's director.

People who could use the Project's help putting that holiday meal on the table need to sign up in advance.

"We're doing sign-ups through the 11th," said Helmold. "Families of three or more get a turkey, and families of one or two people get a chicken of about five pounds. With that they get potatoes, rice, bread, milk, canned vegetables and canned fruit – all the trimmings."

Last year, the project distributed 962 such family meals – reaching over 3,000 people. Along with that went 2,400 toys.

A sign-up desk is ready between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays and 9:30-11:30 a.m. on Saturdays through Dec. 11 at the Center for Spiritual Awareness, 1020 West Capitol Avenue.

Signups are also being taken on Sundays through Dec. 11 from 1-3 p.m. at Holy Cross Church, 1321 Anna Street. Interested people should bring a proof of residency such as a rent receipt or utility bill, a state ID, proof of income (paycheck stub, Medi-Cal card, etc.) and social security card.

Food will be distributed between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Dec. 20-21.

Yesterday, one of the volunteers on hand to assist with Christmas Basket signups was a young Russian-English translator: 14-year old Ed Shokur.

"I am in home-school, and I just volunteered to do this," said Ed.

To find out more about the program, or to donate goods or cash, call 372-3360.

Holiday songs, fun planned at lighting of civic center tree

The "Community Holiday Tree" at city hall will light up in festivities beginning at 6 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 7, at 1110 West Capitol Avenue. Kids can have a picture taken with Santa. Entertainment will be provided by the Holy Cross School Choir, River City High School concert band and Russian Evangelical Baptist Choir. For information, call the chamber of commerce at 371-7042.

Clean enough

City officials gave the "all clear" on Monday for boaters and fisherman to resume use of the waters of the Port of Sacramento and the barge canal.

A construction-related spill last week released an estimated 9,400 gallons of sewage into the canal near the Daniel C. Palamidessi Bridge. A series of tests showed that key "indicator" bacteria were back to normal populations by Monday.

Give blood

The Bloodmobile is coming to town on Tuesday, Dec. 18.

Yolo County and the City of West Sacramento are co-sponsoring a blood drive from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the city hall parking lot at 1110 West Capitol Avenue. A

State pulls plans for new office quarters

Plans to build a 1.4 million square foot new headquarters for the state's Resources Agency have been delayed indefinitely, the state announced last week. One of three sites contending for the new project had been West Sacramento's Triangle Area. The Fulcrum Group and a partner hoped to win the selection, building the project on part of their site near the riverfront and freeway bridge.

The state had issued a request for proposals for the project, saying it wanted to lease space in a new building. West Sacramento was contending against properties on Richards Boulevard and in the "West End" of Sacramento for the agency headquarters.

City officials could not immediately be reached for comment.

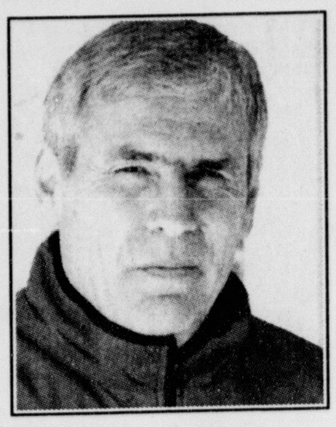
The project was delayed due to state budget problems.

If the West Sacramento proposal won, the new headquarters would have dwarfed other office projects in town – the "ziggurat" and the still-under-construction CalSTRS tower each house about 400,000 square feet of office space.

Men aren't too helpful during Christmas season

Editor's note: Daryl is on vacation this week. Below is one of his favorite holiday season columns from the past.

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

A few weeks ago, I asked a friend of mine for her address so my wife could send her and her family a Christmas card.

"That's okay," she said, "we don't do Christmas cards."

"Really?" I asked, surprised. "Why not?"

"Well," she explained, "to begin with, Christmas cards and the stamps to mail them cost a small fortune nowadays, and I'm cheap. Plus I've already got a million and one things to do at this time of year and the last thing I need is to have to sit down and sign and address dozens of impersonal cards which will just end up in the garbage anyway."

"I don't believe you don't like getting Christmas cards," I said, shocked. "That's one of my very favorite parts of the holidays. And I'll have you know I don't throw them in the garbage, either. I tape them up on the back of my front door, at a very attractive forty-five degree angle."

She smiled and asked, "But who actually has to go out and buy all the Christmas cards you send to your friends and family?"

"Well," I said, "my wife usually does that."

She nodded her head with a 'I thought so' expression on her face and said, "And who buys the stamps, signs everyone's names on the cards, addresses the envelopes and mails the darn things?"

"Well, I guess that would be my wife, too."

"See," she said, "and I bet you're not even the one who hangs them up on the door, are you?" When I refused to answer, she added, "You know, you men are all the same. You just don't realize how much time and effort goes into having a nice Christmas. And I bet if you asked your wife if it would be okay with her to stop mailing out cards every year, she'd probably jump at the opportunity."

Well, thank you very much, Ebeneezer Scrooge, I thought to myself.

Later that evening, as I sat comfortably in my rocking chair admiring all the beautiful Christmas cards hanging on the back of my front door, I noticed that my wife was frantically scribbling away on a piece of paper at the dining room table.

"What are you doing?" I asked her.

"Just trying to come up with a menu for Christmas Eve dinner," she said.

"Is this our year to have everyone come over here for dinner?" I asked.

"Of course it is! Why do you think I've been running around like a chicken with its head cut off for the past two weeks?"

"What all do you have left to do?" I asked naively.

"Are you kidding? Everything."

"Like what?"

"Well, to begin with, the house is a complete mess and the whole thing needs to be cleaned from top to bottom. Plus I've got to wrap and mail all the packages that are going to my family up in Oregon, get all the boys a haircut, and borrow a folding table and some extra chairs from somebody. Then I have to go Christmas shopping for the kids and your parents. By the way, do you have any idea what I can get your mother this year?"

"Not really."

"How about your dad?"

"Sorry, I don't have a clue."

"Anyway," she continued, "if I somehow live through doing most of my Christmas shopping this late in the year, then I have to wrap everything up, decorate the house, and get ready for Christmas Eve."

"What all do you have to do on Christmas Eve?"

"Well, I have to plan dinner, purchase all the food and drinks, prepare the meal, serve the food, clean up the mess, and somehow find the energy to stay up after midnight to be Santa Claus."

"Hey, maybe I could do that this year," I volunteered, starting to feel a little guilty.

"I don't think so," she said with obvious alarm, knowing full- well that I would probably screw the whole thing up. "You won't know where I've hidden all the presents, and which ones go in the kids' stockings and which ones go under the tree."

"But it can't be all that complicated," I said.

"That's okay," she said, "you've already done your part for Christmas this year."

"And what was that?" I asked with interest.

Stumped for a quick answer, she took what seemed like a good thirty seconds before finally saying, "You brought home that pitiful looking Christmas tree with the huge gap in the branches, remember?"

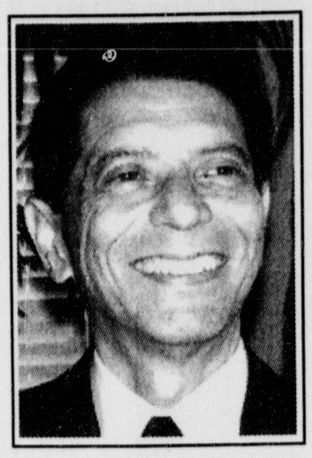
SPORTS

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa



By Richard Novoa

I'm back from my short holiday vacation just in time to go bowling and witness another unjust season of College Football bowl games. The BCS did it again by selecting LSU (11-2) to play in the National Championship game on January 7th in New Orleans against Ohio St. (11-1).

The formula for the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) consists of the USA Today coach's poll, the Harris Interactive poll and an average of six computer rankings. The Buckeyes finished first with an average .959 and LSU came out with .939 followed by Virginia Tech, Oklahoma, Georgia and Missouri. Where was USC?

The former No. 1 team, USC will be a 14-point favorite and play in the Rose Bowl against Illinois, the Big Ten's second choice while the only undefeated team in the nation, Hawaii (12-0) plays Georgia (10-2) in the Sugar Bowl as a 10-point underdog. The pairing of Kansas-Virginia Tech in the Orange Bowl will further heighten the rivalry between the Jayhawks (11-1) and Missouri, who handed Kansas its only loss this season and were two spots higher in the BCS standings.

My point is that after all the smokes clears from bowl selections we still won't have a true clear cut NCAA Football Champion. The system needs a 4 to 8 team playoff game schedule to decide which college team is really worthy of the National Title. It works in NCAA baseball, basketball, volleyball and soccer! It would be a huge moneymaker for the NCAA and their sponsors.

Anyway, all 32 bowl games will be televised beginning on Dec. 20th with Utah playing Navy in the Poinsettia Bowl in San Diego end on January 7th in New Orleans with BCS title game.

Kings Korner

The Kings (6-10) are on a short roll after beating San Antonio and Houston at home and also had the Warriors on the ropes until a fourth quarter collapse cost them the game last Wednesday. Coach Theus has the King playing competitive basketball and are actually a pleasure to watch.

Ron Artest was quoted in the Sacramento Bee with his bold prediction that the Kings will make the playoff this season! Yes, it was a bold prediction but with the return of Mike Bibby and Shareef Abdur-Rahim it just might happen.

The Kings' newest addition, Beno Udrih, could be the piece of the puzzle that has been missing. Udrih is my opinion is pure point guard and is one of the best at that position that I've seen this season except for Steve Nash of course. Udrih is very good and could spark the Kings into a playoff run if they can hang on until Bibby returns but they must win their share of games on the road.

This week the Kings will host Utah (7 p.m.-CSN) on Tuesday and then enjoy two nights off before the Los Angeles Clippers invade the Arco on Friday (7 p.m.-CSN). On Saturday the Kings will travel to Denver (6 p.m.-CSN) and then return to Arco on Monday to play Milwaukee (7 p.m.-CSN). Tickets are available for this home stand.

NFL Week 14

The New England Patriots dodged another bullet on Monday night in their quest to remain undefeated this season in the NFL. The Pats needed a little help from the referees to overcome the 22 ½ point underdog Baltimore Ravens push to send them into the loss column.

The 49ers (3-9) have hit rock bottom with their 31-14 loss to the Panthers, who hadn't won a home game all season. In the mean time the 49ers will limp home this Sunday to try and tackle Adrian Peterson and the Minnesota Vikings (1 p.m.- FOX). Times are getting tough for the Niners, who now starting to question there coaches decisions and the direction of their future.

Alex Smith is out with a bad shoulder and backup QB Trent Dilfer isn't the solution especially after throwing 4 interceptions last week. The Niners only bright spot is their rookie linebacker, Patrick Willis, who again had 18 tackles for the Niners. Willis is going to be busy Sunday chasing down the NFL's leading rusher in Peterson, who already has 1,197 yards to his credit.

Across the Bay, the Oakland Raiders (4-8) stunned the visiting Denver Broncos with surprising 34-20 win before a sold-out crowd. The Silver and Black even let their No. 1 pick, 6-foot-6, 255 pound JaMarcus Russell, handle 16 plays in which he completed 4 of 7 passes for 56 yards in his pro debut. This Sunday (10 a.m.-ch. 13) the Raiders will travel to the "Frozen Tundra" of Lambeau Field as 10 ½ point underdogs to face Brett Favre and the 10-2 Packers.

Aztecs Picks

Aztec enjoyed his week off during Thanksgiving and plans to finish the final month of the NFL regular season like a champion pedigree. This week the Jags (-10) will claw out a win over the Panthers, the Chargers will win on the road in a pick-em against Tennessee and Denver (-6 ½) will save their season at home against the K.C. On Monday night Saints better march in against the hapless Falcons or their season is history.

NCAA Final Four Women's Volleyball

The 2007 NCAA Division 1 Women's Volleyball Championship is next week at the Arco Arena. The Final Four games are set for Thursday, December 13 and 15th. Tickets are still available and can be purchased at the Arco Arena Box Office or by calling, 916-928-6900 or for group rates call 916-928-3650.

Between the Ropes

Don't forget HBO's Boxing best event of the year on Saturday, Dec. 8th from Las Vegas featuring the undefeated Floyd "Pretty Boy" Mayweather (38-0, 24 KO's) against England's undefeated Ricky "The Hitman" Hatton (43-0, 31 KO's) for the Welterweight Championship. Both fighters have agreed to weigh-in at 147 pounds so expect to see some fight works, not like the Mayweather vs. De La Hoya dance show put on in May. I like Hatton in a major upset!

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

. . . but not forgotten

Two panels of the AIDS Memorial quilt are on display in West Sacramento City Hall until Thursday -- part of the city's recognition of "World AIDS Day" on December 1. The quilt, begun by a small group of people in 1987 as a remembrance for fallen friends, has grown to include 45,000 panels dedicated to 88,000 different people. As a whole, it's the largest community art piece in the world. For more information on World AIDS Day, see www.unaids.org. (News-Ledger photo)

"BloodSource" mobile collection van will be on hand.

"We appreciate this opportunity to partner with the City of West Sacramento and are grateful to our own Yolo County Supervisor Mike McGowan for encouraging a blood drive in his home of West Sacramento," said Yolo County Health Officer Bette Hinton in a press statement. "Four out of five of us, at some time in our life, will need a blood transfusion. I encourage all county residents that can to give blood."

To give blood, you need to be at least 17 years old, at least 110 pounds, and in good health. You can't get AIDS or other diseases from the donation process – a sterile needle is used and then discarded. The process of donating includes registration, a brief physical and about 5-7 minutes of blood drawing. Snacks are available afterwards.

Call Kryss Rankin, city clerk, at 617-4528 for information or an appointment to donate.

I long to accomplish a great and noble task, but it is my chief duty to accomplish small tasks as if they were great and noble.

—Helen Keller

Free flu shots

The Yolo County Health Department recommends flu shots, and will sponsor a free shot clinic for anyone 6 months old or older. Visit the Russian Baptist Church at 1000 Sacramento Avenue in West Sacramento between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Sat., Dec. 8, for a free flue vaccine shot. People especially at risk from complications from the flu include senior citizens, pregnant women, young children, residents of nursing homes and other care facilities, health care workers, those with chronic medical conditions, and caretakers of kids or the elderly. For information on the clinic, call (530) 666-8645. For information about the flu, visit www.cdc.gov/flu.

River City High School senior Bee Jay Murallon (shown above at far left), has won the 2007-2008 Sacramento Camellia Society button contest. His winning artwork will become a button that has been a symbol of the Sacramento Camellia Show for many years. People throughout Northern California and as far away as Japan will be wearing his artwork.

The Sacramento Camellia Society chose River City High School's AP Studio Art Class to create artwork for the button competition. The students had to meet specific criteria which included the show's theme (Garden Gifts), and the essence of the camellia flower and foliage.

All of the student artwork will be on display at the Sacramento Camellia Show which will take place March 1 & 2, 2008 at the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium.

Buttons will be available for $1 after the first of the year. Please contact Julie Vierra at 371-2174 for more information.

Schedule for annual 'Santa Run'

Saint Nick will tour the town from atop a fire truck next week

The West Sacramento Fire Department, in conjunction with the West Sacramento Firefighter's Association, is preparing for the annual "Santa Run" through West Sacramento. With the help of many off-duty firefighter "elves," Santa will be riding through various neighborhoods on an elaborately decorated fire truck "sleigh" and handing out candy canes purchased and donated by the West Sacramento Firefighter's Association. Additionally, Santa will have a pickup truck following his "sleigh" with helpers collecting any canned food donations for the needy.

The West Sacramento Firefighter's Association invites you to make a donation of canned food during their visit.

A firefighters' association representative also expressed appreciation to West Sacramento Fire Chief Frederick Postel and City Manager Toby Ross for permitting the use and decoration of the ladder truck for this annual tradition.

This year the Santa Run is scheduled for six nights beginning at 6:00 p.m. each night. Santa will be in the following areas on these dates:

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• Earlier this year — on Nov. 20, to be exact — those who make such observances celebrated the feast day of St. Edmund the Martyr. Not familiar with him? As we're near the height of flu season, it might be wise to remember that St. Edmund the Martyr is the patron saint of pandemics.

• It was American lawyer Clarence Darrow, famous for defending John T. Scopes in the so-called Monkey Trial in 1925, who made the following observation: "When I was a boy I was told that anybody could become President; I'm beginning to believe it."

• Famously flamboyant country singer and songwriter Dolly Parton once entered a Dolly Parton look-alike contest — and she lost.

• According to travel experts, the top cities worldwide that tourists want to visit are, in order: Paris, Rome and San Francisco.

• The first atomic bomb was detonated on July 16, 1945, near Alamagordo, N.M. More than 60 years later, the substance at ground zero is still too radioactive to touch.

• When the movie "Grizzly Adams" was filmed, the grizzly bear that played the title role was paid $9,000 a day, plus an extra $15,000 for performing its own stunts. I wonder if it went out on a shopping spree after payday?

• In order to help those famously large sumo wrestlers put on weight, trainers have them stop eating breakfast.

• Those who study such things say that the average woman changes her hairstyle 20 times between the ages of 18 and 24. Between the ages of 50 and 80, women only change their hairstyle four times.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento river registered five feet, five inches, U. S. gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday.

Chicken thieves have been making themselves felt around West Sacramento just as they have been felt around Woodland and other sections of Yolo county, but so far nobody has been arrested by the authorities. Last Saturday night the chicken roost of Arthur Everaert in West Sacramento was raided and 21 thoroughbred White Wyandottes were taken. These were prize birds and valued more for their egg laying qualifications than for meat. The birds were very heavy, weighing six or seven pounds, and are a loss to the owner.

Frank Janak has been making considerable improvement to his service station in West Sacramento. A concrete driveway was laid during the past week. In addition another room was added to the dwelling at the rear of the service station and the fence and garages attached to the place were covered with stucco plastering.

The West Side Auto Camp, under the direction of McNally and Partridge, continues to grow in popularity with the travelling public as indicated by the patronage being received. During the past week not a single piece of accommodation was left untenanted. McNally declares that the tide of southbound tourists has turned and many travellers are now returning again to the north.

William Maddox, a camper at the West Side Auto Camp, was held up on the M street bridge last Tuesday night, when returning to his camp after a visit in Sacramento. Two men jumped on the running board of his automobile after he got off the bridge and relieved him of $28. One of the bandits stuck a gun in his face, while the other searched him. Maddox believes the men to be Mexicans or else they had colored their features to make them look very dark. The case was reported to Constable Wilson, but Maddox has gone on his way, without leaving an address.

Joe Pereira has started to install an up-to-date service station on the premises of the West Sacramento Auto Camp. Considerable grading has already been done leading from the county road to the station and this will be covered with a surfacing of road gravel that will make the station just as modern as any in this section of the state or in Sacramento. Up to the present time Pereira had accommodations for the travelers of the West Sacramento Auto Camp, but he is now equipping himself to supply the travelling public and to give them the best service possible. Already large gasoline tanks have been installed and the station proper is being erected and will be ready for service in a few days. This new service station will make an attractive and convenient place for autoists along the state highway.

H. O. Merrill was fined five dollars last Tuesday by Judge Barry for speeding on the state highway in West Sacramento, after being arrested by Speed Cop Sharpnack. Merrill offered as an excuse that he was in a hurry to be present at the afternoon session of the assembly in Sacramento and was in a hurry to reach his destination so that he might influence some of the lawmakers to vote his pet measure. Judge Barry [illegible]tioned him about influencing the [illegible]mbers of the legislature and as[illegible]ssed him five dollars for his recklessness.

A. O. Thompson, giving his address as the Monadnock Bldg. in San Francisco, was also before Judge Barry last Tuesday on a charge of speeding. He should have appeared about a week previous but failed to show up. He offered as an excuse the death of his mother-in-law and declared that he had been out on a wild tear following her funeral. Because of his celebration Judge Barry assessed him a fine of ten dollars and warned him that if another mother-in-law should die, there must be no celebration.

Supervisor Buckingham is now making his regular trips to Woodland in a new Dodge he purchased a few days ago. He traded in his old Dodge but the garageman only took it for accommodation to the supervisor. Buckingham was well satisfied with the old car for it never failed him when he was in a hurry and although he didn't run very fast, it was a thing of beauty and a joy forever. The new Dodge is an ornament in the neighborhood of the end of the Southern Pacific bridge, where the supervisor resides.

On account of the change of date of the meeting of the Washington Boosters' Club from Tuesday to Monday night, there was no meeting of the club last Monday evening in the town hall. Several officers of the club were absent on account of previous engagements at lodge meetings in Sacramento and less than a quorum of the membership attended last Monday evening.

Services are being held regularly every Sunday morning at 11 a. m. and every Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the local Baptist church by Rev. Ellis Purlee of Sacramento. Mr. Purlee is known for his splendid sermons and a choir of good voices renders appropriate music during the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards Phillips have returned from a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Los Angeles. They will make their home in Sacramento.

A. H. Wilson, school watchman, is recovering from an illness which has confined him to his home for several days.

Miss Mildred Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bryan, suffered painful burns Monday when a kettle of scalding water overturned.

Tony Borgone of Oakland returned home after a few days' visit here.

A. A. Dassonville has resumed his business duties after having been confined to his home by illness.

Sheriff J. W. Monroe of Woodland was a business visitor in Washington Monday.

The Bryte Social Club at its meeting last Friday night at Rose Orchard admitted ten new members and served a banquet.

The building committee of the Presbyterian Church will meet tonight at the home of H. C. Bell to discuss the new church plans. The committee is composed of J. Queener, E. L. Freese, W. E. Julian, A. Lauer and A. C. Nelson.

A. Blodgett of Baker City, Ore., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. C. White who is recovering from a serious illness.

Mrs. Hilma Joseph and three daughters and Miss Ardella Manchester left Sunday for Tres Pinos, after several days' visit at the I. K. Manchester home. Mrs. Joseph is a daughter of the Manchesters.

After spending several days here visiting friends, Mrs. Lottie Brisdin returned to Napa.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cook are entertaining as a house guest the former's aunt, Sally Scott of Wisconsin. Miss Ethel Cook and brother, Floyd, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cook, from Napa.

FATAL MENACE BEING REMOVED AT DEATH CURVE

Although inducted into the office on January 5th, or less than a month ago, Supervisor Buckingham has already started to reduce the death menace that has prevailed for many years at the corner of Fifth and Anne streets in Washington.

So many accidents have happened at this point that it is commonly known as "death curve." It is one of the most dangerous turns in the system of state highways in the state of California and people living in the neighborhood have become so accustomed to witnessing accidents at this point that they pay no attention to them any more.

Buckingham is reducing the death trap by filling at both sides of the curve, thus widening the road to more than twenty feet or nearer thirty feet. Formerly the road was less than sixteen feet in width at this turn and it was on that account that it was so dangerous for automobile drivers.

On the road westward toward Davis this was a very dangerous spot because the auto driver was forced to raise with a gradual grade and unable to see what was beyond the turn. As a matter of fact, there was nothing beyond the turn but a bleak hole nearly twelve feet lower than the surface of the roadway.

That hole is now being filled with dirt hauled from the river bank outside Rocky Point.

South of the roadway on Anne street, Buckingham is also about to make another filling that will reach higher than the picket fence around the Markey property.

While the turn will still be dangerous and a poor substitute for a roadway, it will be ever so much better when completed than the condition which prevails now and which has prevailed for several years past.

Another improvement that could be made advantageously at this point is the removal of a telegraph pole south of the turn, but no doubt Supervisor Buckingham will look after this when he starts filling at the south side of the roadway.

YOLO SUPERVISORS PROVIDE FOR THE BUILDING OF SUBWAY

WOODLAND, Jan. 21.—By resolution passed yesterday the Yolo county board of supervisors authorized the construction of a new subway at Broderick, the county's share of the expense not to exceed $9000. The state highway commission is to share one-half the expense and the Sacramento Northern Railway company the other one-quarter with the supervisors. It is believed that the new subway will be located west of the present subway site. Sentiment in Broderick is divided as to the location of the subway, but those in power plan to place it where it will serve the most conveniently and do the most good.

Good beer is so plentiful now in eastern states that an attorney employed by the Anheuser-Busch Brewery has made protest to the president that its product cannot be sold. And all the good beer is imported from Canada.

Murder of Frank Restel Provokes Widespread Activity on the Part of the Police Authorities

A good deal of malodorous publicity has been given the town of Washington during the past week as a result of the murder of Frank Restel on the levee south of the M street bridge and between the two large rice mills in West Sacramento.

Particularly damming is the publicity given this affair by the Woodland papers and never once did those papers show that the murder did not occur in Broderick, or Washington, but on the contrary, in every sentence published by the Woodland papers, Broderick, or Washington, was shown to be the point where the murder occurred.

As a matter of fact, the murder of Restel took place in the jungles along the river levee in the West Sacramento district and about a mile outside the town limits of Broderick, or Washington.

Broderick is simply the postoffice name for the town of Washington, Yolo county.

Very true, the murder did take place near the town of Washington, or Broderick, but the Woodland papers took all the advantage possible to damn the town for the murder of Restel.

The residents and taxpayers of Washington are extremely sore because in all the papers publishing details of the murder the location was made at Broderick when, as a matter of fact, it was entirely outside the town.

Restel was murdered near the rice mills Saturday night. He was shot by a holdup man and was found by passersby lying face down on the levee with a bullet wound in his back, which resulted in his death at a Sacramento hospital Sunday morning.

A partial description of the bandit was furnished by Restel before he died. Restel told T. N. Koening, captain of detectives, he was held up and robbed of several dollars.

The dying hold-up victim, between gasps for breath, gave Koening the details of the shooting. He said he was walking along a lonely section of the levee when he was approached by a young man who ordered him to throw up his hands. Koening thinks Restel fought with the bandit, because his face and head were cut and his hands bruised.

Koening believes Restel was shot when he attempted to flee from the scene of the robbery.

Restel lay in a semi-conscious condition on the bank for nearly two hours before he was found. Constable Frank Wilson was notified and the police ambulance was summoned. At the emergency hospital he was given first aid treatment by Dr. T. Binkley, and then removed to the Sacramento Hospital. Restel lived only a few hours after being wounded, as the bullet punctured some of his vital organs.

The murdered man came to this country a few years ago from his native Switzerland. Before coming to Sacramento four days ago he was employed in Nevada.

PROMOTION OF WEST SACRAMENTO PROJECT ABOUT TO START

In company with J. Peltier and G. M. Jones, Thomas McAnulty visited the West Sacramento District last Wednesday and Thursday and at the present time is installed in a Sacramento Hotel about ready to take up the promotion of the project outlined in The Independent a few weeks ago.

Yesterday a trip was made by three officials, Jones, Peltier and McAnulty accompanied by Mr. Turner, secretary of the West Sacramento Company, throughout the district. All were perfectly satisfied with the prevailing conditions, but they were particularly pleased with the condition in which they found the large well that had been sunk to provide water for residents of the community.

Mr. McAnulty will remain temporarily in Sacramento, but will make his headquarters at the West Sacramento general office.

He advised the Independent that after a few more preliminary arrangements, salesmen will be expected to place the land and the holdings on the market.

So far definite financing and arrangements have not been concluded so that Mr. McAnulty was unable to advise The Independent precise plans that are to be followed and that will be made public a little later on.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES KEEP WATCH ON BRIDGE FOR FIREARMS

In an effort to keep undesirables out of the "jungles" near Washington, Sheriff J. W. Monroe last night placed two deputies at the Yolo end of the M street bridge across the Sacramento river. The two deputies, Charles T. Newton and Tony Marty, searched a number of men for concealed weapons, but took no one into custody.

The sheriff followed up the move of placing deputies at the bridge by announcing today that he will himself take up the nightly vigil at the bridge as soon as he can arrange his work on a different basis.

"I am determined to keep gun toters out of Yolo county," the sheriff said today. "There have been a number of murders and other crimes in Washington, and I think things could be made safer if the guns and gun toters were kept out. I have placed two deputies on the M street bridge to search all suspicious looking characters for concealed weapons, and as soon as I can arrange my work I am going to be on the bridge also at night.

Sheriff Monroe said that there were no new developments in the murder of Frank Restel in Washington. It was following this murder last week that the sheriff decided to clean out the "jungles" and to keep out undesirables as far as possible.

MERRY WEDDING FEAST AT AUTO CAMP HELD BY IRISH PEOPLE

Last Sunday at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament in Sacramento Ed Riley of Los Angeles was married to Miss Mary McCarthy, a native of Ireland, but a resident of the state of New York during the past two years.

Following the marriage ceremony at the Cathedral a great feast was prepared at the West Sacramento Auto Camp in the community house of the camp and in all 250 relatives of the contracting couple were present to celebrate the affair.

By prearrangement the families assembled from seventeen states of the union in California to celebrate this wedding feast. Only one family, John Riley, was present who had not been previously notified and that family happened in in a providential way.

Not only were the relatives of the contracting couples invited to the feast, but every man, woman and child in the camp were invited to partake of the good things prepared for the occasion.

As a matter of fact, the feast started early last Saturday forenoon and continued unabated until Wednesday evening.

The automobiles in which the various families arrived at the camp were not of the Ford type. Cadillacs, Lincolns, Rolls-Royces, Hudsons, Peerlesses, and Studebakers were the means of transportation from the various states of the Union. Some came from New York, some from Kentucky, some from Florida and some even from Maine.

Of the entire 250 relatives present on the occasion only four heads of families were born in Ireland, yet not a single name was there outside of McCarthy, O'Riley and Rafferty. Mostly all those present were born in either England or Wales, but following the ratification of the free state, they came to this country and made a mark.

Joe Pereira was very proud of the celebration held in his camp. Never before was there such a celebration even at the opening of the camp. Never before were there such dances held on the floor of the community house and even the little shavers eight and ten years of age danced to the tunes of Irish fiddles the celebrated jigs and reels so popularly known as the Drowsy Moggy, The Irish Washerwoman, The Connaught Man's Rambles, The Old Back Car, The Liverpool Hornpipe and My Little Stack of Barley.

Early Wednesday morning the families began to scatter to return either to their homes or to continue their tour of the country.

Pictures were taken of the celebration by Hodson, the photographer of Sacramento, and these pictures will be taken to every section of the United States.

Originally the home of all these people was in the County Limerick close to the River Shannon and be it said that during the celebration that popular song known as "Where the River Shannon Flows" was rendered many times.

News-Ledger Editorial

Bits & pieces

No matter how many years you see it happen, it's impressive.

The West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project kicks off again, with volunteers and donors doing whatever they need to do to provide a cheery meal to several thousand people who can use a little help. The donors are a remarkably wide collection of businesses, residents, churches and community groups – in short, it's your neighbors and the people you do business with.

West Sacramentans don't always see eye-to-eye on everything. But at least once a year, they show they can work shoulder-to-shoulder on one thing, and that's the Christmas Basket Project.

Squabbles over politics, development and school district issues can wait, it seems, until after the holidays.

The state has dropped – for a while – plans to solicit a new half-billion dollar office building for its Resources Agency. The decision is a result of budget troubles, although the agency had planned to allow private developers to compete for a chance to build the complex and then lease it to the state.

One of three serious contenders for the honor was in West Sacramento, on land just north of the Pioneer Bridge and the US 50 freeway.

The project would have kicked off development in this city's "Triangle" area in a big way.

Plans laid in the 1990s for this urban-riverfront region will just have to wait a bit longer.

It's tough to know what, if anything, to make of this.

But the past couple of weeks in the police blotter have seen several references to the attempted theft of dogs in West Sacramento. Which (if any) of these reports is credible is hard to say. Likewise, the reports may not be related to each other even if they are all accurate.

But there you go.

Keep Your Tree Looking Its Best

1. Select a fresh tree. The needles should be moist and not break when bent with fingers.
2. Store your tree out of direct sunlight and away from drafts.
3. Immediately before the tree is brought inside, make a half-inch fresh cut from the trunk and place it in water.
4. Initially, put hot water in the tree holder to remove any sealing pitch.
5. Use a Christmas tree stand that holds a gallon of water.
6. Check the stand every day for water and keep it full. Never allow the reservoir to become dry.
7. Keep your tree away from a direct heat source.
8. Miniature light bulbs are better than large bulbs because they generate less heat.
9. Christmas trees should last inside safely at least a few weeks. When a tree ceases to "drink" water, it should be removed from the house.

SUMMONS FOR PUBLICATION (CITACION JUDICIAL)
CASE NUMBER: (NUMERO DEL CASO) 07AS04798

NOTICE TO DEFENDANT (AVISO AL DEMANDADO): ALL PERSONS INTERESTED INTHE MATTER OF the validity of a Settlement Agreement, dated October 16, 2007, by and between the State Board of Equalization, Pacific Gas & Electric Company, and the counties of Butte, El Dorado, Mariposa, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sierra and Yuba.
YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF (LO ESTA DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE): STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION
You have until January 30, 2008, to file a typewritten response at this court. This action seeks judicial validation of that certain Settlement Agreement and Mutual Special Release ("the Settlement Agreement"), dated October 16, 2007, by and among the State Board of Equalization ("SBE"), Pacific Gas & Electric Company ("PG&E"), and the counties of Butte, El Dorado, Mariposa, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sierra and Yuba ("the Counties"), establishing the methodology to value certain state-assessed real property, and accordingly assess certain property taxes, relating to SBE's determination that PG&E has taxable possessory interests in certain local agency hydroelectric facilities located within one or more of the Counties, from fiscal year 2007-2008 through the expiration of PG&E's presently existing power purchase contracts with five local water agencies/irrigation districts. The Settlement Agreement resolves a pending lawsuit filed by PG&E against SBE and the Counties, and resolves claims for refund filed by PG&E with SBE and the Counties, wherein PG&E alleged that it did and does not have such taxable possessory interests and that the amount of state-assessed property taxes assessed and levied was excessive; and by which PG&E sought to recover such state-assessed real property taxes for fiscal years 2000-2001, 2001-2002, 2002-2003, 2003-2004, 2004-2005, 2005-2006 and 2006-2007. Plaintiff seeks a judgment from the court that, among other things, SBE has the lawful authority to enter into the Settlement Agreement and that the Settlement Agreement is a valid, binding, and lawful agreement of SBE and the parties thereto, and creates valid, binding and lawful obligations of SBE and the parties thereto pursuant to its terms.
If you contest the legality or validity of the matters involved in this lawsuit, you will not be subject to punitive action, such as wage garnishment or seizure of your real or personal property. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.
There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association.
Después de que le entreguen esta citación judicial usted tiene hasta el 30 de Enero del 2008, para presentar una respuesta escrita a máquina en esta corte. Esta acción procura validación judicial que cierto Acuerdo de Finiquito y Liberación Especial Mutua (el "Acuerdo del Finiquito", fechado el 16 de Octubre del 2007, por y entre la Junta Estatal de Igualación ("SBE"), Pacific Gas & Electric Company ("PG&E"), y los condados de Butte, El Dorado, Mariposa, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sierra y Yuba ("los Condados"), que estableció la metodología para valorar bienes raíces tasados por el estado, y de acuerdo a esto tasar ciertos impuestos de propiedad, relacionados a la determinación de SBE que PG&E tiene intereses posesorios imponibles en ciertas instalaciones de la agencia local hidroeléctrica ubicados dentro de uno o más de los Condados, del año fiscal 2007-2008 hasta el vencimiento de los contratos de compra de potencia existentes con otros cinco distritos hidráulicos/distritos de irrigación locales. El Acuerdo del Finiquito resuelve un litigio pendiente archivado por PG&E contra SBE y los Condados, y resuelve reclamaciones de reembolso archivadas por PG&E con SBE y los Condados, donde PG&E alegó que no tenía y no tiene tales intereses posesorios imponibles y que la cantidad de los impuestos sobre la propiedad tasados por el estado impuestos y tasados era excesiva; y por lo cual PG&E procuró recuperar tales impuestos sobre bienes raíces tasados por el estado para los años fiscales 2000-2001, 2001-2002, 2002-2003, 2003-2004, 2004-2005, 2005-2006 y 2006-2007. El demandante procura un fallo del tribunal que, entre otras cosas, SBE tiene la autoridad legal de celebrar el Acuerdo de Finiquito y que el Acuerdo de Finiquito es un acuerdo válido, obligatorio, y legal de SBE y las partes de este, y crea obligaciones válidas, obligatorias y legales de SBE y las partes de este de acuerdo a sus términos.
Si disputan la legalidad o la validez de los asuntos involucrados en esta demanda civil, no estarán sujetos a daños punitivos, tales como la retención de sus sueldos o el secuestro de sus bienes muebles o inmebles. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. GO FIGURE! by Linda Thistle

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

Q. It was great seeing Marie Osmond again on "Dancing With the Stars." Besides Donny and Jimmy, what are the names of her other brothers? — A Reader, via e-mail

A. Alan, Wayne, Merrill and Jay round out the performing brothers of the Osmond clan. Brothers George Jr. and Thomas both were born deaf and did not sing on any of the Osmonds' albums. In later years, however, they did appear on various TV shows with their siblings and performed.

Q. How long did the sitcom "Home Improvement" air? How old would the boys be now? — A Reader in Eau Claire, Wis.

A. "Home Improvement," which featured the grunting comedy of Tim Allen, aired from 1991-'99. The actors who played Tim's three sons — Brad, Randy and Mark — are: Zachery Ty Bryan, 26; Jonathan Taylor Thomas, 26; and Taran Noah Smith, 23. Interestingly, Jonathan, who portrayed the middle brother, Randy, in real life is actually two months older than Zachery, who portrayed the eldest brother, Brad. Also, Zachery is a newlywed, Jonathan is newly engaged, and Taran is newly divorced.

Q. How many times has Regis Philbin been married? How many children does he have? — Randy C., Altoona, Pa.

A. The popular talk-show host, who recently turned 76, has been married twice. His first wife was Catherine Faylen, with whom he had two children — Amy and Daniel. His second and current wife, Joy, has borne him two more children — Joanna and Jennifer (nicknamed J.J.). Regis recently announced that daughter J.J. and her husband, Michael, would be welcoming Regis' first grandchild to the world in February 2008.

Q. How did Tom Hanks and Rita Wilson meet? Do they have any children together? — H.W., Decatur, Ala.

A. Tom and Rita first met on the set of Tom's break-out sitcom, "Bosom Buddies," but they developed a romance while working together on the film "Volunteers." Tom has two children (actor Colin Hanks and Elizabeth) with first wife, Samantha Lewes. Tom and Rita also have two children, Chet and Truman. An interesting timeline note: The Internet Movie Database lists "Volunteers" as having been made in 1985, while Tom and Samantha didn't divorce until 1987. Not speculating, I'm just saying ...

Q. When did Jill St. John marry Robert Wagner? How many times has she been married? — A Reader, via e-mail

A. Jill St. John, 67, has been married to Robert Wagner since May 1990. She had been married three times before settling down with Wagner. She also is known for dating many well-known men, including Frank Sinatra, Henry Kissinger and Sean Connery. Jill has no children.

CRITIC'S CORNER

By D.N.A. Smith

"Beowulf"

Running time: 114 minutes
MPAA rating: PG-13

"Beowulf" may not be the best fantasy film ever made, but it does have one thing that no other fantasy film can boast, every fanboy's fantasy come true: Angelina Jolie's enormous, nekkid, CGI-enhanced bosom projected onto an IMAX screen — in 3-D.

There's also a fair share of male nudity. If you ever wondered what Anthony Hopkins bare behind would look like if he were a computer-generated Danish king, then "Beowulf" is the movie for you.

When the characters aren't busy being naked, they're shouting or speaking in gruff manly voices (a la "300") about getting naked or killing stuff. It's a Manly Tale of Manly Men doing Manly Things with their Big Man Hands and then shouting about what they just did.

The film is very loosely based on the epic poem most of us had to endure in high school. A demon named Grendel terrorizes the land. The king (Hopkins) spreads the word that he will give half his kingdom's treasure to the hero who slays the demon. Enter Beowulf (Ray Winstone), who slays Grendel, and he does it — yes, you guessed — naked.

Oh. And there's also a dragon he kills, but he does it with his clothes on.

"Beowulf" is done using the same horrid computerized motion capture process that made "The Polar Express" one of the creepiest children's movie ever. There is something terribly wrong with the process. It sort of gives the illusion of live action, but the eyes have a waxy, cadaverous sheen to them. The skin also has a cold, moist texture that is disconcerting.

The result is a look that isn't quite lifelike enough to look real, and too detailed to be animation. It's like a lores cut scene from an older generation video game.

"Beowulf" is an OK movie (although it could be about 30 minutes shorter), and I can just barely recommend it because there are a couple good battle scenes. But other than that and Angelina's hypnotic yet threateningly huge bosom, there's nothing else interesting about the flick.

The New Encyclopedia of Snakes
by Chris Mattison
(Princeton University Press, $35)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

Snakes are among the most feared and misunderstood creatures on earth. A comprehensive and richly illustrated new reference book dispels these misconceptions by addressing the natural history of snakes and their relationship with each other and with other groups of animals.

Chris Mattison, an internationally recognized herpetologist based in the United Kingdom, has written several previous books about reptiles. The "New Encyclopedia of Snakes" incorporates new information on snake biology and classification and includes a complete list of every family genus, with notes on each. The 200 color photographs document the fascinating variety of snake coloration and camouflage, and illustrate and clarify the many topics covered. This book is organized thematically, making it easy to use.

This is an ideal reference for anyone interested in snakes. Scattered throughout the text are easy-to-read fact boxes about topics of special interest. Especially intriguing are chapters covering the evolution of snakes and how they are classified. Also covered in detail are snake habitats, the types of food they consume, reproduction cycles, incubation, hatching, growth and development, and how snakes are named.

Mattison also shares his concerns about habitat destruction. He agrees with many scientists who predict that up to one third of the earth's species may become extinct in the next century. Mattison adds that, unfortunately, many of those creatures will be snakes, lost as a result of desertification, rising sea levels and increasing pressure on land that will be required to feed and house a burgeoning human population in a period of diminishing resources.

The "New Encyclopedia of Snakes" is one of the most comprehensive single-volume guides ever written about snakes, and a work that is highly recommended.

Books reviewed in this column are available online or at your local bookstore.

Good Housekeeping

Glazed Ham

This is an easy and delicious ham to serve at Christmastime. For variety, brush the orange glaze on a roast turkey!

TOTAL TIME: 4 1/2 hours
MAKES: 18 servings

- 1 12-pound fully cooked smoked whole ham
- About 2 tablespoons whole cloves
- 2 (10-ounce) jars orange marmalade
- 1 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
- 1 (15 1/4-ounce) can pineapple rings for garnish
- Maraschino cherries and parsley sprigs for garnish

1. With sharp knife, remove skin and trim all but about 1/4-inch fat from ham. Stud ham with whole cloves. Place ham, fat-side up, on rack in large roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of ham, being careful that pointed end of thermometer does not touch bone. Bake ham in 325 F. oven 2 1/2 hours. If ham browns too quickly, cover with a tent of foil.

2. After ham has baked 2 1/2 hours, prepare glaze: In 2-quart saucepan over medium-high heat, heat marmalade, orange juice, mustard, ground cloves and ground ginger to boiling. Reduce heat to low; simmer 5 minutes. Brush some of the glaze over ham; bake 30 minutes or longer until meat thermometer reaches 140 F (about 15 minutes per pound). Add raisins to remaining marmalade mixture; heat through and keep warm.

3. To serve, place ham on large, warm platter; garnish with drained pineapple rings, maraschino cherries and parsley sprigs. Serve with remaining marmalade mixture.

• Each serving: About 380 calories, 16g fat, 80mg cholesterol, 2,300mg sodium.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Dec. 18, 1620, passengers on the British ship Mayflower come ashore at Plymouth, Mass., to begin their new settlement, Plymouth Colony. That winter of 1620-21 was brutal, and by spring, 50 of the original 102 Mayflower passengers were dead.

• On Dec. 16, 1811, in the Mississippi River Valley near New Madrid, Mo., an earthquake of an estimated 8.6 magnitude on the Richter scale slams the region. The quake raised and lowered parts of the Mississippi Valley by as much as 15 feet and changed the course of the Mississippi River.

• On Dec. 22, 1939, two express trains collide in Magdeburg, Germany, killing 132 people. The accident was probably due to the fact that the country's best rail engineers had all been conscripted into the military.

• On Dec. 20, 1957, rock-and-roll star Elvis Presley receives his draft notice for the U.S. Army. Fans sent tens of thousands of letters asking for him to be spared, but Elvis would have none of it. He was sworn in as an Army private in Memphis on March 24, 1958.

• On Dec. 17, 1963, the U.S. Congress passes the Clean Air Act, a sweeping set of laws designed to protect the environment from air pollution. It was the first legislation to place pollution controls on the automobile industry.

• On Dec. 21, 1975, in Vienna, Austria, Carlos the Jackal leads a raid on a meeting of oil ministers from the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, killing three people and taking 63 people hostage. OPEC did not hold another summit for 25 years.

• On Dec. 19, 1998, the House of Representatives approves two articles of impeachment against President Bill Clinton, charging him with lying under oath to a federal grand jury and obstructing justice. After the trial the following February, during which he was acquitted on both counts, Clinton said he was "profoundly sorry."

Fave Foods OF THE FAMOUS

by Steven Austin

James Reynolds

Since 1981, James Reynolds has starred as Abe Carver on NBC's "Days of Our Lives," certainly logging more hours on TV than most actors can ever dream of. Admired worldwide for his humanitarian and charitable efforts, Reynolds has received numerous awards for his work in front of the camera and within communities that have special needs. As busy as he is with "Days" and other TV guest appearances, he and his wife, actress Lissa Layng, own and operate The Fremont Centre Theatre in South Pasadena, Calif.

Reynolds, a former Marine who served in Vietnam, is active in the USO Celebrity Education Program. He recently visited Department of Defense Education Activity schools in Germany and Iceland to speak with students about the importance of staying in school. Previously he had visited U.S. troops in Kuwait with the USO.

"I was glad to have come to see them, to tell them how proud the folks back home were for their service," James said. "I would be back, I promised. Not to repay an old debt of another war, but to show my appreciation for America's new warriors."

If you could feed every U.S. soldier overseas one item from home, what would it be?

"A big heaping bowl of ice cream. I have never heard of anyone disliking ice cream. It would be a great treat, and the right ice cream might be a little healthy. It also makes you feel good!"

You were born in Kansas, and the only food most people associate that state with is barbecue. What other food product should Kansas be famous for?

"Obviously barbecue is a great Kansas tradition. I always bring back a cooler full whenever I return. Of course Kansas is known for growing wheat, so bread, or at least its primary ingredient, is the next food product it should be known for."

The food treat you and your wife enjoy together.

"My wife and I love a Thai restaurant called Saladang in Pasadena. We enjoy a lot of different foods. We will share anything chocolate!"

Compare directing a theatrical production to creating a delicious meal at home.

"Well, you have to cast the production with the perfect complement of actors. Foods must complement each other as well. The flavor must merge in the same delightful way a good show must."

Best childhood food-related memory.

"I remember a family reunion on an uncle's farm. We had smoked pork, chicken and turkey. Sorry vegetarians! And with that we had the freshest sweet corn, green beans, collard greens and delicious apple cobbler."

JAMES REYNOLDS' GOOD TIME THREE-CHIP COOKIES

- 1 cup cream cheese
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour or soy flour
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- 2 cups of super chunky peanut butter (low-fat if possible)
- 1 1/2 cups of low-fat margarine
- 1/4 cup vanilla
- 2 tablespoons nutmeg
- 3 eggs
- 1/2 pound bag peanut butter chips
- 1/2 pound bag vanilla chips
- 1/2 pound bag chocolate chips
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 350 F. Lightly butter a cookie sheet. In a large bowl, mix the peanut butter, cream cheese, margarine and brown sugar until smooth. Add the eggs, vanilla, salt and nutmeg and mix. Slowly add the chips. Use a wooden spoon to mix. Then using the spoon, put dollops of mixture on the sheets. Bake until done, about 10 minutes.

Business is tight?

You're not the only one to notice these are tough economic times. But don't make the mistake of cutting your marketing budget back to 'zero'!

Instead, focus -- and make your dollars count.

Consider the News-Ledger as part of a 'lean & mean' marketing strategy.

Get 'bang for the buck' by advertising in our classified ad section. Did you know you can have a classified ad of up to 25 words, under the one-word or two-word heading of your choice, for only $12 per month?

Or get a 'business card' ad ($39/month with a 6-month commitment) and receive an ad on our classified ad page as well, for no extra charge!

Call 371-8030 for details. We'll help make sure customers can continue to find you!
